Leader of the Clement Payne Movement, David Comissiong, says it's time the injustices against the Cuban people were stopped. Comissiong's remarks came Sunday during the 37th commemoration for the victims of the October 6, 1976 terrorist Cubana Airlines plane attack that killed 73 people off Paradise Beach in St James.

"We want to appeal to the people of the United States of America, and to say to them: what your government have been doing to the people of Cuba for over 50 years is wrong. Even with the imprisonment of those five Cubans who went to Miami to speak out against terrorism.

"We are appealing to the American people to see the fundamental injustices of this, and just as they were capable of stopping the war march of their president and Congress a few weeks ago, to also take the initiative to undo these injustices against the nation and people of Cuba," Comissiong said.

The Clement Payne Movement leader said that would be the ultimate justice and tribute to the innocent 57 Cubans, 11 Guyanese and five Koreans who lost their lives in the jet bombing.
